① Judgment dt. 11/2/2003 in² OP. No. 13631/02

O.P.No. [REDACTED] 02 W

Dated This [REDACTED] February 2003

The petitioner [REDACTED] Research Officer working under the first respondent. She was appointed to that post on 3.6.1996. The contesting respondent, the fifth respondent herein, was appointed to the very same post on 30.12.1996. But the fifth respondent was treated as senior to the petitioner in view of his rank in the select list. Their next promotion post is Statistical and Research Officer. A vacancy arose in that post on 1.12.2000. The petitioner was senior among the qualified persons in the feeder category when the vacancy arose on 1.12.2000. But she was not considered for the reason that the first respondent was contemplating an amendment to the qualification for the post of Statistical and Research Officer. Earlier the qualification for the post of Research Officer was amended in 1995. In tune with the said amendment corresponding amendments were not made to the qualifications to the post of Statistical and Research Officer. Resolution for making the amendment to the qualification for the said post was taken by the

(2) 7
[REDACTED] 98
Board of Trustees [REDACTED] dated 24.11.2000.
The matter was pending before the Central Government. It appears that the fifth respondent also moved this court and this court directed the Union of India to take a final decision on the proposed amendment forwarded by the first respondent. The final amendment was approved by the Union of India and notified in the gazette on 8.3.2002 and the amendment was to take effect from the date of publication of the Notification. While so, in the meantime the petitioner was promoted on adhoc basis to the post on 28.2.2003. When the Rules came, she was reverted by Ext.P14 order and by Ext.P15 order dated 13.5.2002, the fifth respondent was promoted. The petitioner challenges Exts.P14 and 15 orders.

2. The main ground of attack against the reversion of the petitioner and the promotion of the 5th respondent is that when the vacancy arose on 1.12.2000, the petitioner alone was the qualified candidate. Relying on the principle that the claim has to be considered with reference to the date of occurrence of vacancy, the petitioner is entitled to be promoted with effect from 1.12.2000, it is contended.

3. Respondents 1 and 5 have filed separate

3

14

96

counter affidavits supporting the impugned orders. According to them, there was a conscious decision not to make any appointment pending finalisation of the amendment. When the amendment came, both of them were qualified and therefore, the fifth respondent being the senior, the petitioner was reverted and the fifth respondent was promoted.

4. It is not in dispute that the claim for promotion has to be considered with reference to the conditions obtained on the date of occurrence of vacancies. But in appropriate cases, the Government or the employer may take a conscious decision not to fill up the vacancies pending amendment to the Rules. In that event, vacancy need be filled only after the amendment and in the light of the amended Rules. The first respondent can claim that there is a conscious decision if only there is a resolution by the Board of Trustees followed by an order issued by it and brought to the notice of the affected persons. In the case at hand, the learned counsel for the first respondent submitted that there is no such resolution or any order keeping in abeyance all further promotions to the post of Statistical and Research Officer pending finalisation of

(94)

9

one amendment. In view of the above position, the decision cited by the respondents reported in Dr.K.Ramulu V Dr.Suryaprakash Rao (1997(3) SCC 59) and Union of India and Others V Cherian P.Thomas and others (2001(1) SLR 66) do not apply to the facts of the cases. A Division Bench of this court in State of Kerala V Manmadhan Nair (2002(1) KLT SN 59) has held that the Government's conscious decision not to fill up the existing vacancy in accordance with the existing rules must be reflected in the files and in the order of the Government in that regard. In view of the above decision, the petitioner is entitled to succeed. Accordingly, the original petition is allowed. Exts.P14 and P15 are quashed. The claim of the petitioner for promotion as Statistical and Research Officer with effect from the date of occurrence of the vacancy in the post shall be considered by the first respondent within one month from the date of receipt of a copy of this judgment.
